

ANNUAL REPORT 2020

MISSION

The Massachusetts Public Health Association is a champion for public health in the Commonwealth. We are a catalyst for change, eliminating health inequities and promoting healthy communities for all.

WHO WE ARE

MPHA is a nonprofit organization that promotes a healthy Massachusetts by advocating for effective policies, organizing key stakeholders, and building broad coalitions. We are leaders in the movement to create health equity by addressing the root causes of health and wellness. We promote policies that impact the major drivers of health outcomes, such as access to healthy food, safe affordable housing, and transportation. We also advocate for equitable access to critical public health services across the Commonwealth.

DEAR ALLY AND PARTNER,

As you know, 2020 has been a year like no other. The arrival of the coronavirus pandemic has changed nearly every aspect of life in our state, our nation, and the world. At the Massachusetts Public Health Association (MPHA), it has brought new urgency to our efforts to support local public health departments and boards of health, who are working on the front lines to respond to this crisis. It has also underscored the importance of our long-standing work to reduce health inequities. The pandemic's disproportionate impact on Black, Latinx, and low-income communities has laid bare the fundamental role that structural racism and poverty play in perpetuating inequitable health outcomes. And it has deepened the public health community's determination to partner with those most affected to develop sustainable solutions addressing these "root cause" issues.

In the following report, you will learn more about some of the ways that MPHA has been working to address the most critical issues associated with COVID-19, including:

- Launching the Task Force on Coronavirus & Equity to make rapid policy recommendations, amplify the voices of those most impacted, and advocate for a more equitable state response;
- Working with a broad coalition of partners to pass the nation's strongest moratorium on evictions and foreclosures and advocating for additional measures to stop mass eviction and stabilize housing;
- Accelerating investments in our local public health system, including passing new legislation to provide training and grant funding, and advocating successfully for the first-ever state budget line item for local public health; and
- Speaking up forcefully against police brutality and in favor of decarceration, and actively supporting the passage of new legislation that now offers a critical step forward in the effort to fundamentally change policing practices.

While we have achieved some notable successes, much more remains to be done. Given the scale of devastation from COVID-19, we believe that we have a moral obligation to use this moment to achieve real and lasting change. We also recognize that public awareness of the importance of public health measures is at an all-time high, with more people seeing the value of public health than ever before.

As a result, MPHA is seizing this moment to launch several key initiatives, including:

- Building a broad coalition to pass the Statewide Accelerated Public Health for Every Community Act (SAPHE 2.0). This critical legislation will bring much-needed improvements to our state's inefficient and inadequate local public health system by establishing minimum public health standards for every community, ensuring a qualified workforce, incentivizing municipalities to share services, creating a uniform data collection and reporting system, and dedicating state funding to support local boards of health and health departments;

- Advocating for COVID-19 vaccine equity by monitoring and ensuring equitable distribution of vaccines, including pressing for state engagement with hard hit communities to help earn trust and overcome vaccine hesitancy;
- Continuing to advocate for new housing stability measures, in order to avoid mass eviction and a resulting spike in both crowded living conditions and homelessness; and
- Supporting legislation to provide paid sick time to every worker in our Commonwealth.

We know we will face many challenges in the year ahead as we seek to realize these goals, and we are so grateful to have your support and partnership in the effort. Thank you for being part of the movement for greater equity and health.

With hope,

OUR CAMPAIGNS, YOUR STORIES

Fighting against COVID-19, Fighting for Equity

Long before the arrival of the coronavirus, MPHA was already at the forefront of a movement to create real health equity by fighting poverty and structural racism. So, when the COVID-19 pandemic began, we knew who would be hit the hardest – those who were already suffering the most.

We immediately formed the Task Force on Coronavirus & Equity and issued recommendations calling for policies to help protect communities of color, low-income people, immigrants, and people living in institutional settings, like homeless shelters and prisons.

As the scale of the economic fallout of the pandemic grows, we are striving to ensure that the cost of recovery is not born by the same communities who have already been hit the hardest by the virus.

“MPHA has been one of our strongest allies in the effort to protect all workers – including black and brown low-wage frontline workers, many of whom are immigrants – from exposure to COVID-19 on the job. They understand, from a public health perspective, that ensuring worker health and safety is a central part of any successful strategy to contain the virus. They also recognize that addressing the needs of our workers is essential to our recovery and allows for an equitable response to this global pandemic.”

- Al Vega, Director of Policy & Programs, Massachusetts Coalition for Occupational Safety and Health (MassCOSH)

Working to Stabilize Housing

No one should lose their home during a public health emergency. That’s why one of the first recommendations from MPHA’s Task Force on Coronavirus & Equity was a temporary moratorium on evictions and foreclosures. MPHA is proud that, working in partnership with a broad coalition of partners, we succeeded in passing the nation’s strongest moratorium on evictions and foreclosures, which remained in effect for five months.

Since the expiration of the moratorium in October of 2020, we have been advocating for additional measures to stop mass evictions, including the COVID-19 Housing Stability Act, which would protect tenants who are unable to pay rent due to the impact of COVID-19 and create a fund to assist property owners who have lost income due to the pandemic (with a focus on small, owner-occupied, and nonprofit landlords). We are also continuing our support for the rental voucher program and other tenant protection measures.

“Since the pandemic hit, MPHA has played a critical role in bringing together organizations working on many different issues to advocate for equity in the state’s response to COVID-19. Their leadership on the issue of housing instability was critical in passing the Eviction Moratorium, which protected thousands of Massachusetts residents from homelessness. As a member of the Task Force on Coronavirus & Equity, I appreciate both their collaborative approach to developing political strategy, and their ability to get results.”

Accelerating Investments in Local Public Health

Local public health professionals are the unsung heroes who report cases, carry out contact tracing, enforce isolation and quarantine, implement public health orders, and participate in broad-scale vaccination. In our Commonwealth, however, the system they work within is funded and managed through 351 different municipalities. As a result, it is underfunded, understaffed, inefficient, and inequitable.

MPHA is determined to change that. Last year, we made important progress by passing legislation to provide training opportunities and grant programs for local public health departments. We also advocated successfully for the first-ever funding allocation for local public health in the state budget. Now, we are building a broad coalition to pass the Statewide Accelerated Public Health for Every Community (SAPHE 2.0) Act. This critical legislation will establish minimum public health standards for every community, ensure a qualified workforce, incentivize municipalities to share services, create a uniform data collection and reporting system, and dedicate state funding to support local boards of health and health departments.

It is time to stop applying Band-Aids to a broken system. Our public health heroes deserve better, and Massachusetts residents deserve better. The time is now to achieve real and lasting change.

“MPHA is bringing the local public health community together to demand change, while also supporting our work to fight the pandemic. This year, we saw significant progress with the passage of new legislation and the first-ever line item for local public health in the state budget. Now we are pressing for the fundamental changes that are needed to ensure that ALL residents of Massachusetts have access to strong public health protections.”

Speaking Out against Inequities in the Criminal Legal System

To realize our vision of a healthy Massachusetts, MPHA is committed to addressing the most important drivers of health – the social conditions that exist in our communities. A key component of this work is fighting structural racism, one of the root causes of health inequity. Structural racism is linked to an increased risk of food insecurity, lack of access to safe affordable housing, increased risks of incarceration, and exposure to police brutality, violence and other forms of trauma.

In an effort to bring a public health voice to policy debates on these issues, MPHA's Board has voted to recommit MPHA to working both to dismantle structural racism and to lift up the voices of people most impacted by racism and other forms of oppression. Putting this commitment into practice, last year we partnered with a wide array of organizations to actively support police reform legislation, call for the decarceration of our prisons and jails, promote housing stability, and demand an equitable state response to the COVID-19 pandemic that acknowledges and addresses its devastating impact on communities of color.

“Working with MPHA to advocate for police accountability and decarceration has provided a powerful opportunity for public health voices and civil liberties voices to be aligned in calling for change. Together, we helped pass a landmark police accountability bill – an important first step in addressing the long history of structural racism in policing in our Commonwealth and charting a new path for the future.”

- Oami Amarasingham, Esq., Deputy Legislative Director, ACLU of Massachusetts Safety and Health (MassCOSH)

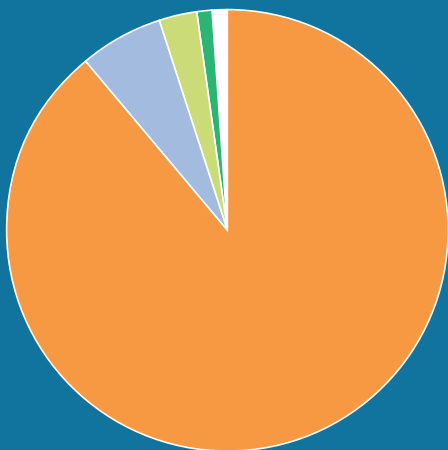

“As overwhelming as conditions are right now, things would be much worse were it not for MPHA's vision in forming the Equity Task Force early in the pandemic, and for your moral clarity and the toughness of your advocacy. Keep it up!”
